

Feature construction: build a new column from existing ones

Feature splitting: one cell holds several facts

