

people

Memorise the examples

A student learns past answers by heart, then compares each new question to them.

ML

Instance-based learning

keeps the data; compares new points to it

Understand the rule

A student learns the principle, then applies it to any new question.

Model-based learning learns a function; uses only that