

Four branches of maths in ML

Linear algebra represents the data

a table is a matrix, a column a vector, a colour image three matrices

Calculus

reduces the error derivatives show how to change a model so its predictions improve

Probability

decides under uncertainty when the data cannot settle a case, pick the more likely answer

Statistics

draws conclusions from data summaries, outliers, which columns relate to the output